

TUSCULUM

UNIVERSITY

ESTABLISHED 1794

Commencement

December 5, 2020

Dr. Scott Hummel

Dr. Scott Hummel, a proven leader with a track record of fundraising success and enrollment growth, is the 29th president of Tusculum University. He joined the Tusculum family Feb. 17, 2020, as the next step in a successful 30-year education career, the last 12 of which he served in high-level positions at William Carey University, a private Christian institution affiliated with the Mississippi Baptist Convention.

During his time at William Carey, the number of students doubled, and the university added several majors, started multiple medical programs and created eight doctoral programs. In addition to his administrative roles, Dr. Hummel served as a religion professor, teaching courses about the Old Testament, Biblical Backgrounds, the Greco-Roman World and the Ancient Near East.

Calling himself a professor at heart, Dr. Hummel began his education career as a home-based teacher with the Fort Worth Independent School District in Texas in 1989. He also was a special education math teacher and a science teacher before embarking on his higher education career.

A first-generation college student, Dr. Hummel earned a Bachelor of Arts in biblical studies from William Carey in 1987. He received a Master of Divinity in biblical languages in 1991 and his doctorate in biblical backgrounds and archeology in 1996 from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He also studied at Brite Divinity School at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth and, as a Rotary Ambassadorial Scholar, at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Dr. Hummel has served as interim pastor for several Baptist churches and one Presbyterian church in Mississippi and Texas. He has been a member of Rotary International since 2002 and was president of the Longview-Greggton Rotary Club in Texas from 2007-2008 and the Hattiesburg Rotary Club from 2013-2014.

Dr. Hummel is married to his wife, Starr, a high school science teacher, who earned her bachelor's degree from Appalachian State University and earned her Master of Divinity in biblical languages at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. The Hummels have three daughters.

Trevis Gardner - Graduate Speech

Trevis Gardner is the Vice President of Operations for the Metropolitan Knoxville Airport Authority and is an Accredited Executive Manager with the American Association of Airport Executives. He earned a Bachelors of Science in Organizational Management from Tusculum College, and is now being awarded a Masters of Business Administration. He is a graduate of Leadership Knox, Leadership Blount, and the East Tennessee Regional Leadership Programs, an Air Force veteran, and the proud father of two daughters.

Hanna Johnson - Undergraduate Speech

Hanna Johnson graduates summa cum laude from Tusculum University with a Bachelor of Science in Political Science and a minor in Gender Studies. Hanna was a Bonner Leader, in the honor's program, a member of Alpha Chi, an orientation leader, and played beach volleyball. Upon graduation, Hanna plans to attend law school with the intent of becoming a prosecutor and eventually President of the US.

Ivee Richesin - Invocation

Ivee Richesin is graduating magna cum laude with a bachelor's degree in special education. While at Tusculum, she has been actively involved as a member of the women's softball team, the Education Club, and the President's Society. After graduation, Ivee plans to begin her career as a special education teacher while she pursues a master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction and coaches Loudon High School's softball team.

History

As Tusculum celebrates its 226th year, the Tusculum family remembers the recent past and the generosity of individuals such as Dr. Scott Niswonger, Dr. Larry Brotherton and Mrs. Verna June Meen. Pioneers, both present and future, are the beneficiaries of their civic spirit and caretakers of a legacy that challenges them to realize the full measure of their potential, both on campus and in their communities.

Tusculum University originates from two distinct institutions. In 1794, two years before Tennessee received statehood, Territorial Governor William Blount and the General Assembly chartered Greeneville College with Reverend Hezekiah Balch as president. Twenty-four years later, Samuel Doak and his son, Samuel Witherspoon Doak, founded Tusculum Academy in 1818.

Tusculum is the first institution of higher learning in Tennessee and the 28th oldest in the nation. Tusculum is the first institution affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) to admit women and the first in Tennessee to educate an African-American student. Tusculum's greatest accomplishments, however, have not been recorded by historians, nor have they been attained within the narrow confines of a college campus. Tusculum's most meaningful history has been, and continues to be, written in the countless actions of its graduates as they have fanned out over the globe to do the work for which they were trained. - Sit Lux.

Mission

Building on a rich Presbyterian heritage and a pioneering spirit, Tusculum University provides an active and experiential education within a caring Christian environment to inspire civic engagement, enrich personal lives, and equip career-ready professionals.

TUSCULUM UNIVERSITY ALMA MATER

'Neath oaks that so long have stood watching,
Oh halls of our college, ye stand;

Afar on the distant horizon,
The Smokies rise, lofty and grand.

With beauties of nature surrounded,
Two centuries' memories thine;

And so, oh our college, we love thee,
Close 'round thee our heartstrings entwine.

Oh days in the old Alma Mater
Spent in classrooms, on campus, or track;

Each one full of tasks and of pleasure,
Once gone, they can never come back.

Then sing while the days are still passing,
With voices exultant and free;

Fair Tusculum our college forever!
All hail, Alma Mater, to thee!

– Charles Oliver Gray, Jr. '17, Hon. '28
